FOREWORD

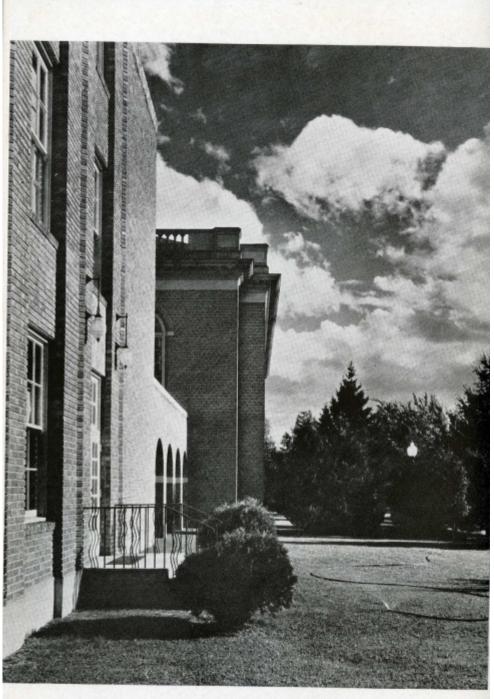

Induction orders, rolling drumbs, marching feet, company halt, eyes ahead, on the ball, at ease, men, forward march, advance and be recognized - - - - - these set the tempo for the Hyakem of 1943, a memorable year in the history of C. W. C.

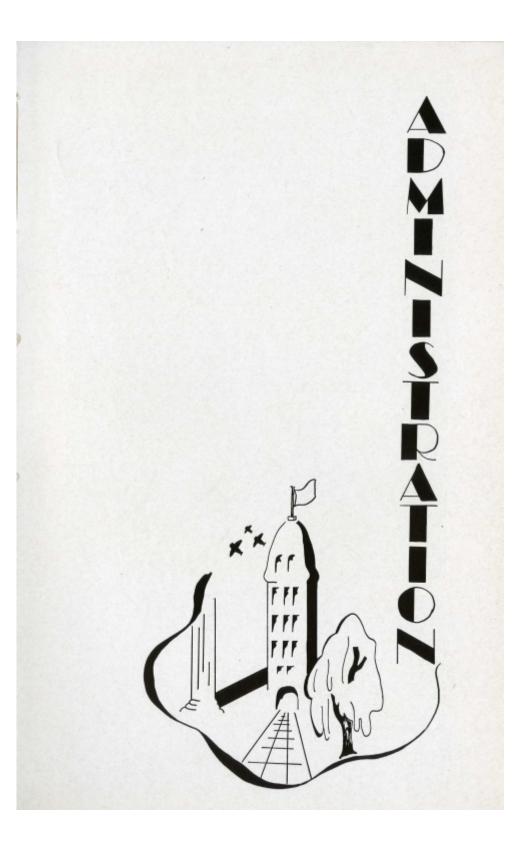

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

CLASS ROOM BUILDING

The 1943 Hyakem presents the activities of our College during an intense war year. Throughout its pages are found evidences that the students have sensed the responsibilities of citizenship in a country which has rapidly geared itself to a struggle to free all nations from tyranny. Our men students have been preparing to be pilots or have enlisted in the Army, Navy or Marine Reserves. Our women students have been preparing to be teachers, nurses and secretaries.

We are sure that the education provided here will enable those who have secured it to serve worthily and to assume positions of greater leadership than they otherwise could have assumed. Our college has done its best to render a patriotic service. Our work, our activities, and our social life have all provided learning situations where knowledge is gleaned, where skills are improved, and where personalities are refined.

When you peruse these pages in years to come, may they bring back pleasant memories.

DR. SAMUELSON

It is the efficient service of the Personnel and Placement—Dean of Men's Office—that greets our students when they first enter C. W. C. E., and it is through the efforts of this office that these same students are started in successful careers when they are ready to leave us.

Dr. Samuelson, one of the most congenial members of the faculty, is ably assisted by Miss Lillian Gregory, a former student of C. W. C. E. One should not be surprised to hear anything from the strains of a tune popular in 1934 to the latest Moron joke issuing from this office. However, in addition to their extra-curricular activities, they find time to place our rapidly decreasing crop of male students in off-camps jobs, counsel any who may desire counseling, and surprise students with poor-work slips at various times during the school year.

THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The personnel of the Registrar's Office consists of Mr. Barto, Registrar, Miss Freegard, Assistant Registrar, and several college girls who assist with clerical work.

Mr. Barto and Miss Freegard perform many other duties in relation to collegiate activity as well as the registering of students for classes every quarter, scheduling of class periods, sending out grades and correspondence study courses. This year scheduling of classes for the Army Air Corps has been added to the regular program of activities in this friendly office.

Besides his regular duties, which include ordering supplies, paying bills, and making budgets for the college, he is Treasurer of the Student Government Association and Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Courson's tireless cooperation greatly contributes to our college success.

Another member of the Business Office is the accountant, Mr. Cleman. His knowledge of the accounts and his work with college records make him indispensable.

The greeting smile seen as one enters the Business Office is that of Barbara Fischer. She is always on hand to take your money or to give any requested information.

In all institutions there are some people who are too little known and yet very important to the organization. Two such persons are Marguerite Hansen and Ruthann Curry, who are in the Business Office. They keep your accounts straight and take care of all those incidental items that keep the machinery of Central Washington College running smoothly.

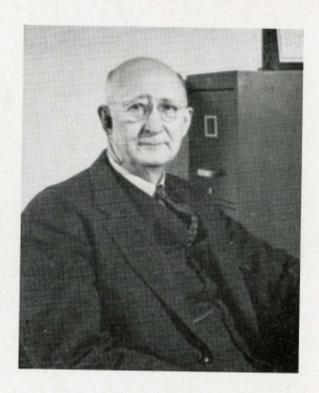

Mr. Ernest Muzzall, Professor of Education, guides students for tasks of war and peace. Professor Muzzall, whose experience includes special service in the first World War and several years of school administration work, is admirably fitted for his positions of Director of Instruction, Director of Public Service and Extension, and Coordinator of Instruction for the Army Air Forces College Training Program. Mr. Muzzall's primary tasks are to see that high standards of teaching are maintained in the regular college program, that the college is serving the best interests of our state educational program, and that the Air Corps Cadet is given the foundation on which his development as an officer in the United States Army and a member of an Aircrew will be built.

Under the capable direction of Dr. A. J. Foy Cross, the Office of Visual Education has grown in size and in the variety of its services. Heading the staff of this branch of the Department of Public Service is Secretary Dorothy Huss.

This office acts as the College's representative in the public schools by making available educational motion picture films, filmstrips, and flat pictures for use in opaque projectors. Campus services furnished by this office include classroom motion picture projections, visual aids equipment for student teachers, and the operation of the public address system.

During the past year over 50 new filmstrips, 100 new films, a new motion picture projector, and other new visual aids equipment have been added for use on the campus and in the schools of the State of Washington. This tremendous expansion has made it necessary to make plans for enlargement of the office by the addition of a room equipped for filing films.

MR. WHITNEY

Mr. Whitney came to our college in August, 1908, as teacher of science and industrial arts. It is through his efforts that the industrial arts program here was established. He had charge of appointments and extension service for a number of years. During fifteen years of serving as registrar, Mr. Whitney continued his teaching of mathematics.

Since his resignation as registrar in the spring of 1942, Mr. Whitney has remained an active member of our college community. When not engaged in teaching mathematics, he is busy as member of the Student Welfare Committee and of a number of other organizations for school betterment. His past service will long be remembered, and his help in establishing the Student Government, and all the other ways in which he has made and is making his interest and influence felt, deserve and receive our sincere thanks and appreciation.

ANNETTE H. HITCHCOCK, Dean of Women

This year C. W. C. E. was fortunate in securing Mrs. Annette H. Hitchcock as Dean of Women. The office of Dean of Women exists chiefly for the purpose of aiding and guiding women students in their various problems and activities. As an aid to her counselling on both personal and academic problems, Mrs. Hitchcock has been organizing personal data folders for each girl. Among the many records kept in her office is the activity card containing a record of all activities in which the girl participated during her college career. All the girls agree that Mrs. Hitchcock has proved to be an understanding friend as well as an able advisor, one to whom they can turn freely for sound advice and assistance.

Her duties lie in many other directions too. As social director she

Her duties lie in many other directions, too. As social director she supervises the arrangements for all social affairs through the Social Calendar. She acts in an advisory capacity for the Associated Women Students, and she must approve the S. G. A. social budget. The Dean of Women also is in charge of all housing for women. She aids the housemothers in regulating the dormitories and inspects all off-campus housing. Off-campus employment for women students likewise is handled through the Dean's office.

What does the college library mean to the student?

The library is a meeting place of minds. It is the crossroad where the forward-looking youth of the 1940's meet the great and the neargreat of former generations.

It is a place where ideas germinate—a fusion of past and present words and deeds—making an alloy with which to test life's future experiences. On common ground we meet strangers who change to life-long friends—books which become a part of us—men and women whose lives serve to mold our sense of values. The courageous deeds of pioneer effort, the miracles of science, the inspiration of the fine arts awaken in us ever-widening intellectual horizons.

Students who come to the library learn how to use books, how to know books, how to love books, and how to make books a vital part of their lives. This is our hope and belief, shared by the members of the library staff and by the students we welcome to the library.

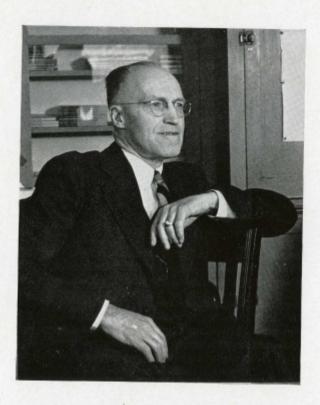

MARGARET S. MOUNT

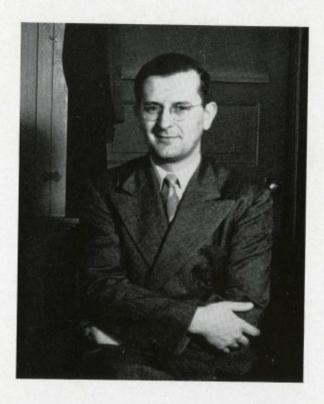

The dramatic days of this college year have been so vivid there can be no forgetting. Friends leaving us to join the armed forces or to go into vital war work, a military training center established on our campus; events such as these have come in quick succession.

Less dramatic but equally significant has been the continuing college program for those who are preparing for teaching and other types of important civilian work. The insistent call for more teachers than are available has hurried some of these programs at a time when it has seemed that preparation should have been more thorough than ever before. We know, however, that the education of teachers, like all education, is a continuous process and that a strong foundation has been built while you have been in college if you have clarified your thinking, organized your objectives, and developed an understanding of ways of achieving high purposes. We have faith in your capacity for continuous growth.

AMANDA HEBELER,
Director of Teacher Training

One of Central Washington College's faculty who successfully contributed to the C. A. A. war training program was Dr. Loren Sparks. For both the primary and secondary programs Dr. Sparks conducted classes in military science and discipline. His instructing schedule also included mathematics and physics in primary work. The help and cooperation of Dr. Sparks in this field was one of the important factors in making the C. A. A. an outstanding project in this district.

In the summer of 1940, the Central Washington College of Education was designated by the federal government as a center for civilian pilot training. The college was to give the ground school course and the Ellensburg Flying Service the flight training. Dr. Wilfred Newschwander of the Science Department was designated as instructor. He passed the instructor's tests with a high score. Later he learned to fly in order better to help the young men training for service. The Registrar's Office acted as coordinator until the summer of 1942 when Dr. Newschwander became coordinator as well as instructor.

Ten groups, totaling in enrollment two hundred and fifty students, completed the elementary program and four groups, totaling fifty students, completed the ground school courses. Not only did the students who took the ground school instruction under Dr. Newschwander make excellent records in most instances, but the young men who took advanced training elsewhere found that they could compete successfully with those who had taken their work at the big universities.

While the flight training under the Civilian Pilot Authority has ceased, Dr. Newschwander is now teaching in the army cadet program. Much of the fine success which the young men have made should be attributed to the excellent instruction which they received from their ground school instructor, Dr. Newschwander.

In charge of the Infirmary is Miss Betty McCormick who, in addition to general Infirmary duties, instructs classes in pre-nursing, has charge of Nursery School inspection, and maintains a visiting nurse service for off-campus students.

Assisting Miss McCormick is Mrs. Helen Hansen who replaced Mrs. Beth Lund last winter quarter. Nurses Aids have also been extremely helpful in cooperating with Miss McCormick and the army personnel now maintained in our college Infirmary.

SENIOR CLASS

Apple pickers let down their hair to enjoy the highlight of the year— The APPLE KNOCKER'S BALL. Sponsored by the Senior Class, the occasion was indeed a gala affair, climaxing the apple harvest season.

During the spring quarter the Senior Picnic was held in spite of the difficulty of procuring food due to war conditions. This affair, exclusively for the graduating students, was one of the most memorable for the seniors. In addition, the class did its part in upholding the growing tradition of wearing caps and gowns on the last school day.

Even though less than forty students comprised its ranks, the Senior Class, by its ambition and zeal, has contributed greatly to the success and enjoyment of campus life.

JUNIOR CLASS

The annual Barn Dance sponsored by the Junior Class was replaced this year by the Tramp Trot, which turned out to be quite a success both for the student body and the class treasury.

The dance was a costume affair using the hobo theme, as the title suggests. Bobby Foster was crowned King of the Hobos by a ballot previously cast by the student body. Prizes were given to Ardeth West and Bob Arps for the most original costumes of the evening. Punch and popcorn balls were served as refreshments. The highlight of the evening was the La Conga line lead by Louise Weaver.

The program of the Junior Class was limited this year because of the war.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Not to be sidetracked by the shortage of men students, nor the existing war conditions, the class of '45 presented its Annual Cupid's Informal on Valentine Day. The occasion was on a war-time basis; very few decorations were used, and defense stamps were given as prizes at intermission. The affair was very successful and was attended by many former students now in the armed forces.

Our class was under the able guidance of Mr. Elwyn Odell, who left the teaching staff at midyear. He was one of the many professors from our faculty to answer our country's call to duty. He was not replaced after his departure.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In spite of the fact that our government took most of the officers, the Freshman Class has done well for itself. President Earl Nelson and Social Commissioner Wayne Lawson left fall quarter, leaving Vice President Joy Nygaard, Secretary Charlotte Halgren, Treasurer John Hicks and President-Elect Bob Bow to carry on. Only recently Johnny and Joy were called to serve their country.

CONSTITUTION

HYAKEM

The Hyakem staff this year met with many serious problems; because of the present situation many of the men on the campus were called into the service. Thus, the staff was composed almost entirely of women. The rationing of film, metal, and other important items made it necessary to reduce the book to almost half of its former size.

Burneice Kerr was editor this year, assisted by Cornelia Anderson, Business Manager, and Eleanor Mitchell, Advertising Manager. Harriet King assisted Isabel Monk, Art Editor, and Stanley Mataya wrote the Sports Section. Mr. Glenn Hogue and Miss Catharine Bullard acted as advisors.

The staff also wishes to acknowledge Joyce Pugh and Jean Erhart, who contributed so much of their time to make the completion of Hyakem a success.

CAMPUS CRIER

This year has been one of many changes, not only in world affairs, but here at CWC, too. The Campus Crier is no exception to this. When Ida Kehl, who was editor until January, 1943, went to the University of Iowa for a period of intensive study in Russian, Barbara Lum became editor of the Campus Crier. Dr. Donald MacRae has also gone, and Dr. Catharine Bullard is now advisor to the Campus Crier staff.

Some new columns have made their apperance this year. "Forty-Three" by Marie Pappas, "Ten Years Ago" by Gloria Cook, and "Campus Clatter" are all new editions. Special recognition should be given to the column "There Is No Justice" by A/S Robert M. Kincaid. Since Barbara Lum, who formerly wrote "Koeds in Keds", was appointed editor, Betty Higley has been writing this column. "In Uniform", collected and compiled by June Eliason, features the news of the CWC boys who are now service men in all parts of the world.

Gertrude Kauno and Marginny Barker have worked hard on the paper this year, earning mention as being among the most valuable members of the Crier staff.

The news staff consists of Marginny Barker, June Eliason, Melissa Gilchrist, Phyllis Goodwin, Gertrude Kauno, Maury Rogers, Dorothy Radd, and Maxine Robinson.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

This is the first year of the CWC Student Government Association, and it has been a successful and constructive one in spite of the various changes in leadership. During the fall term President Roy ship. During the fall term Freshell Roy Patrick Wahle was called into the service and was succeeded by Ray Jongeward. When Ray entered the armed forces Shirley Dickson was appointed to assume the duties of the presidential office.

Despite changes and unsettled war conditions the SGA carried through several constructive measures. When the apple growers of Central Washington called upon the student body they responded generously and harvested some called upon the student body they responded generously and harvested some (50,000) boxes of apples in October. An attractive bulletin board, spaced off for various types of notices, was set up in the Walkway of the Old Ad Building. A new plan for study in the library was devised and adopted. A request was made of the Faculty Personnel Committee to consider the matter of no credit deductions for absences. The proposal was worked out, later accepted by the faculty and presented to the student body. cepted by the faculty and presented to the student body.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

The Associated Women Students is the organization to which girls in college belong. Its purpose is to further the interest of all girls, to provide a means for expressing their opinion, and to develop a spirit of loyalty and cooperation.

As is its custom, the A. W. S. sponsored the Welcoming Assembly for girls, and a tea on the first Sunday of the Fall quarter for all students and faculty.

The highlight of the Fall quarter was the Snow Ball, impressive with its colors, gay dresses, and soft music. Included in the Fall quarter activities was the annual Christmas tea.

The climax of the school year was the Mothers' Day tea and program which were held on the same day due to housing and dining difficulties.

KAMOLA (MUNSON) HALL

The many events that Kamola girls had this year were indeed different from any of previous years. Our first Welcoming party started the gay round of fun.

Our Homecoming was cut short when the girls of Kamola went $100\,\%$ out to go "apple knocking".

Christmas was beautiful this year. The tree seemed more gorgeous than ever, and as we joined with the Sue Lombard girls in singing Christmas hymns, many of use realized it was more than just a hymn, that it meant goodbye to Kamola Hall.

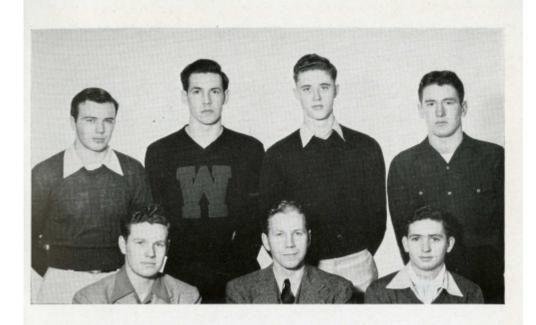

Our house dance in Kamola was the last dance for the duration. The theme of the dance was simple but effective.

We found our new home, Munson Hall, a lot of fun. Our "Open House" marked the beginning of our social functions in Munson.

On Mothers' Day we took pride in showing "Mom" what we are doing at C. W. C. E. to help with the war effort.

OFF-CAMPUS MEN'S CLUB

It was the men's privilege to sponsor the first mixer of the year, and in doing so to make the ties between the off-and-on-campus students stronger.

An extensive and enthusiastically received intra-mural program was sponsored during Fall and Winter quarters.

OFF-CAMPUS WOMEN'S CLUB

The Off-Campus Women's Club has sponsored many activities during the past three quarters.

During Spring quarter its main project was a party for the Off-Campus men. Despite the fact that the party was on Friday the Thirteenth and had as its theme "Superstition", it was a success. During this quarter mixers were given for the members of this organization every two weeks.

Fall quarter saw a successful O. C. W.'s banquet held at the N. Y. Cafe. At this banquet the Off-Campus Women's scholarship was presented to Irene Kroger. Several mixers were also held.

During Spring quarter, the O. C. W.'s Club saw its busiest time. At the beginning of the quarter it sponsored a well attended carnival in the women's gym. Penny pitching, dancing, fortune telling, and dart throwing were enjoyed by all who attended.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The purpose of W. A. A. is to make it possible for those who are interested in sports and dance to carry on some of these activities outside the classroom. High standards have made it strictly a sportswomen's club. Among the many activities included in fall quarter were the fireside for new members, at which a membership scroll was introduced for the first time: playnights for all college women; and the regular sports turnouts, at which volleyball was the popular sport. Winter brought with it basketball and badminton, ending with a basketball championship game between Sue Lombard and Kamola Hall. New members were initiated at a candlelight ceremony followed by a formal banquet. Spring baseball turnouts were well attended and the annual camping trip brought to a close a busy and successful club year.

SIGMA MU EPSILON

Sigma Mu Epsilon, the music organization on the campus, was established in 1936 to further interest in the field among the music students. The main activity of this organization is the sponsoring of student recitals which furnish an opportunity for students to perform in public.

S. M. E. helps to maintain the music library for the benefit of all students on the campus. The record department is a very fine one and is available to all students. It gives everyone an opportunity to listen to all types of good music.

A student must be at least a second-quarter Freshman before he can become a member and must meet all qualifications set up by the membership committee before being admitted to the organization. Forty students were members of S. M. E. this year.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Delta Omicron, Central Washington Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational honorary, has made 1942-43 a memorable year.

To recognize and encourage high intellectual and scholastic standards at C. W. C., the chapter sponsored its annual Freshman Recognition Tea and elected to membership two groups of pledges.

The year's activities included monthly forum discussions of problems confronting the student teacher and problems in education, two pledge breakfasts, one all-college book review, the annual Alumni luncheon at Homecoming and the final banquet.

As co-sponsors with the Home Economics Club, Kappa Delta Pi presented Dr. Jennie Rowntree of the Home Economics Department of the University of Washington at a college assembly. Professor Quainton of the University of Washington History Department was another speaker sponsored by the club. K. D. P. also presented several editions of the K. D. P. publications to the various libraries and reference shelves.

THE HERODOTIANS

The Herodotians, the history honorary of C. W. C., celebrated its twentieth year as the organization in longest continuous existence on the campus. This organization had its beginning in 1923 under the advisorship of the late Professor Herbert Fish, and has continued with the same traditions initiated at that time.

For the ninth year the group has directed a community-campus open forum for discussion of current national and world problems. Topics billed for this season were The Causes for the Present War, and The Coming Peace.

Social events for the year included the two initiations, one held at the home of Dr. Carstensen on Craig's Hill, the other at the annual bean feed.

Until this year the Herodotians have been affiliated with the International Relations Club sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. During winter quarter a separate International Relations Club was organized in which membership is to be open to the entire student body.

WHITBECK CLUB

Whitbeck Club, the geography club, started the year slowly, but with the following quarters its tempo was speeded up through what proved to be an interesting year.

The first meeting of each quarter is a social meeting with exciting games and refreshments as headliners of the evening. Then to bring the club back to the purpose for its organization, the remainder of the meetings are devoted to talks or movies presented by people who have traveled and who have interesting geographical information to present to the club.

In February of this year Mrs. McCormack of Ellensburg related her unique and interesting experiences on Vancouver Island and in British Columbia. Mr. Camozzy, also of Ellensburg, showed to the group films which he had taken on his trip to Alaska.

Dr. and Mrs. Shaw are interested in Whitbeck Club and are most generous in offering the hospitality of their home to the members of this group.

KAPPA PI

1943 has found Kappa Pi, national honorary art fraternity, expanding as it has never expanded before. Speeding along with the rest of the world, Kappa Pi initiated ten new members in February of this year, bringing the membership to twenty.

The organization's big project of the year was the sponsoring of foreign films. Because Kappa Pi is interested in the cultivation of appreciation for art forms, this project seemed to be an excellent one to present to the public. Clever advertising brought these films to the attention of the community as well as the college students, and each film presented a different technique employed by foreign film producers. Films in the series were Professor Mamlock, Mayerling, Janosik, Man of Aran, Chapayev, Harvest, and Thunder Over Mexico.

Each spring a Bazaar featuring the work of Kappa Pi members is held in the Pink Room of the Administration Building. Open House is held Monday night, and the exhibit is shown for an entire week. The public is always invited to view the work of members, and pieces are sold to interested persons.

Several informal parties have been held during the year with Mr. Reino Randall and Mrs. Randall graciously doing their share as host and hostess. Mr. Randall is the Sponsor of Kappa Pi, and it was his interest and enthusiasm that established Alpha Beta Chapter of this campus.

IYOPTIANS

Each year sometime during Mother's Day week-end, not more than twenty girls from the Freshman Class are announced as new members of the Iyoptian Club. This organization is a sophomore honorary service club, which is in charge of the Big Sister plan on our campus. Through this plan freshman women and transfer students are made to feel they are a part of the life of C. W. C.

Other activities of the club are sponsoring firesides for the freshman women and transfers, assisting at Homecoming, the Mother's Day activities, Commencement, and the formal dances; and ushering at the school plays and assemblies.

The success of the club may be attributed in large part to the very able advice and the inspirational influence of the club advisor, Miss Dorothy Dean.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHTS

The Claw Chapter, Intercollegiate Knights, has successfully completed its seventh year of outstanding service to the college. Once again fulfilling their pledge of Service, Sacrifice, and Loyalty, the men have shared in all important S. G. A. functions, working to strengthen the student organization in every way possible.

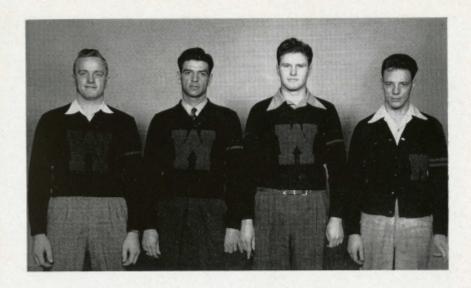

The Claw Chapter had complete charge of the election, parade, and coronation of the Homecoming Queen, in addition to serving in many other capacities in that week-end of festivity, including their own alumni breakfast.

Because many members were called to serve their country during the year, it was a trying year for the Chapter, which finally disbanded for the duration.

The annual Spring Banquet, set ahead in order to have more members present, was highly successful, with John Dart being awarded the key for outstanding service to the college.

The Claw Chapter has set a high standard of efficiency on our campus.

"W" CLUB

This year "W" Club took part in the annual Stunt Night Program, held each Homecoming; members of the club also served as ushers. In the field of social events, the club presented the Queen of the Colonial Ball.

Since the S. G. A. could purchase only a limited number of letter sweaters, the club purchased the two and three-year sweaters. The Rowley Blocking Award was also donated to the best blocker on the football squad. Under the direction of Phil Sarboe, who acts with Mr. Nicholson as advisors to the club, a booklet portraying athletics at C. W. C. E. was published and sent to former club members who are now in the service.

Plans have been completed for the construction of a plaque bearing the names of former club members who are now in active service.

During the Fall quarter a most successful initiation was carried out in which the club gained twenty new members. Weekly meetings were held for the purpose of religious discussion, and Sunday breakfasts were held once a month.

Kay McArdle was elected president during the Winter quarter to replace Roy Wahle who was called to the service. Spring term a breakfast was given for the Catholic soldiers on the campus.

In May the club disbanded until the Fall term of 1943.

SUE LOMBARD HALL

The Sue Lombards have the reputation of being an active and interesting group on the campus this year. Fall quarter the girls received first prize for the best sign at Homecoming. Following this was their traditional Alumni Tea.

With the beginning of winter quarter a tea was held in honor of Mrs. Lula Rainey, who had been Sue housemother for the past seven years. Mrs. Rainey was replaced temporarily by Miss Jesse Puckett. The second event was a fireside sponsored by the girls for the men in Civilian Pilot Training. Later in the winter quarter the girls welcomed Mrs. Leslie Coffin as their new housemother.

Completing the active social calendar at Sue Lombard this year was the annual Daffodil Formal held on April 17, 1943.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

A. C. E. started a very successful and interesting year in October with the initiation of 30 new members. The girls did a splendid job in December with the annual Christmas tree and party for pre-school children. A. C. E.'s annual homecoming breakfast was discontinued for the duration, due to shortages and to traveling inconveniences. During the Winter quarter the club was hostess and registrant to the state superintendents' meeting held at the college. Also during this quarter a second initiation was held for 25 new members. During the year the club has been furnishing in the elementary school an A. C. E. room for the use of its members and fellow students.

The regular meetings have been of special interest and value to all the members this year. Faculty guest speakers on science, physical education, music and literature have talked to the girls, giving helpful suggestions for use in actual teaching situations.

STRING QUARTET

The string quartet has filled a need in the music department which cannot be met by larger groups. It is not primarily a public performance group, but merits existence through study and practice of works of the masters. The only public performance of the quartet this year was at the Christmas Formal Dinner in the dining hall. The members of the quartet are Clifton Alford, first violin; Helen Owen, second violin; Mary White, viola; and Ruth Sincock, cello.

THE STRING ORCHESTRA

The year 1942-43 has been an unusual one for the C. W. C. string orchestra, as it has been for the rest of the college. Mr. Milton Steinhardt, director of the organization, was called for military service early in the school year. He was replaced by Mr. Clifton Alford, former student of C. W. C., who presented the group in the Sigma Mu Epsilon recital in February.

Mr. Alford also left the campus for the army and was succeeded by Mr. Lawrence Moe, member of the music faculty. Under the direction of Mr. Moe, the orchesta accompanied the College Elementary School Choir n an Easter Performance of Pergolasi's "Stabat Mater" on April 22.

FOOTBALL

With six returning lettermen forming the nucleus of a thirty-six man grid squad, Coach Phil Sarboe and Assistant Coach Lloyd Rowley tutored the '42 Wildcats to C. W. C.'s first Winco football crown, thus taking a long step from the cellar spot they had occupied the preceding year. The Wildcats' season record boasted five wins, two deadlocks, and one loss. In non-conference titls, the Wildcats grabbed off a win and a tie, while their lone defeat came at the hands of Pacific Lutheran College.

Wildcat gridders dominated the list of All-Winco plaers, no less than twelve being thus honored. Earning first team berths on the all-star eleven were Jack Spithill, tackle; Don Harney, guard; Russ Wiseman, end; L. G. Carmody, halfback; and Mike Kuchera, fullback. On the second team were Chuck Wilson, tackle; Dave Kanyer, center: Bob Osgood, guard; and Bill Smith, halfback, while Hal Berndt, halfback; Bill Langenbacker, halfback; and Ray Hagen, end, received honorable mention.

Following the release of the All-Winco selections, the Associated Press gave Harney, Spithill, and Carmody honorable mention in its annual poll of the Little All-American eleven. Spithill was later honored with a first team tackle spot in the first Little All-Coast selections ever made. Others receiving mention in this group were Harney, Wiseman, Kuchera, and Osgood.

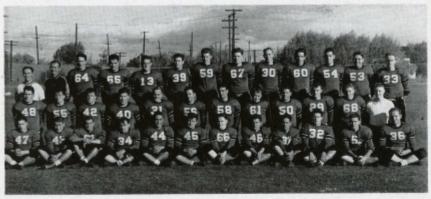

At the banquet concluding the grid season, Wilson received the Rotary Inspirational Award; Harney was the unanimous choice for captain; and Al Boettcher won the Lloyd Rowley Blocking Award.

BASKETBALL

The 1943 Wildcat hoopsters had to be content once again with second place in the final Winco standings, coming in behind Eastern Washington College, which won its second straight basketball title. CWC finished with a league record of 11 wins and 5 losses.

The Wildcats' pennant chances were given a big jolt in their initial two contests when Western Washington College hung a double loss on them. The Wildcats then proceeded to run up a winning streak that reached 10 games before they were set back by the Savages. CWC won the next tilt but lost the final pair to the league winners.

Coach Leo Nicholson's team hit its best stride in the initial game of the season against the University of Washington hoop team, which had been undefeated until it came across the Wildcats, who tripped the Huskles 53 to 49. The U. W. won the return game in Seattle, 58 to 30.

Russ Wiseman, CWC's All-Winco center of '42, rose to greater heights this year when he once again was a unanimous choice for All-Winco after having set a new Winco scoring record of 260 points for the season and also making 110 free throws out of 150 to break his old record of 94, which he had set last year in his first year of Winco competition. He tallied 27 points in the second Cheney game to tie the league record for the most points scored in a single contest.

TRACK

With but three letterman returning from the undefeated championship track squad of 1942, Coach Phil Sarboe began preparing his cinder aspirants for the two meets scheduled for this season. Since war restrictions had put a stop to the usual dual meets with the other Winco squads, the only meets scheduled were the Inland Empire meet held at Spokane and the Winco meet which took place on the CWC Field.

Hal Berndt, a sprinter; Bob Lynn, a distance man; and Russ Wiseman, a weightman, comprised the list of returning lettermen. Berndt has captured the Winco 100 and 220-yard dashes for the past two campaigns; Lynn was the top distanceman for the Wildcats, and in the conference meet he took second place in both the mile and the two-mile runs. Wiseman bore the brunt of the weight event responsibilities. He, like Lynn, won two seconds at the conference meet, getting runner-up spots in the discus and the shotput.

The fairly large track turnout that began this season was soon depleted as the boys answered the summons of their country. Sarboe had a tremendous rebuilding task before him as the spring quarter got under way.

TENNIS

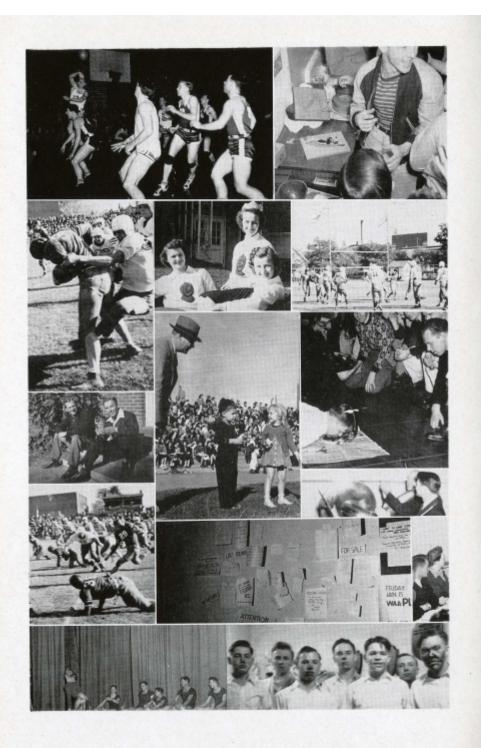

When the problem of transportation for athletics hit Winco sports circles, it was the smaller competitive sports that were hit the hardest, and among these was tennis. The 1943 Winco tennis meet, which was scheduled for the CWC courts, was the only competition included on the Wildcat racket-wielders' slate.

As was evident in the other sports, Coach Leo Nicholson faced a big job of rebuilding a team to defend the '42 Winco championship. All the members of last year's strong squad were missing this spring. The new aspirants had to fill the spots vacated by the five Wildcats who captured three conference singles crowns and the No. 2 doubles crown, thus climaxing CWC's four-year reign of Winco tennis.

For Essential Wartime Trips

Today bus service is performing a vital part in winning the war . . . transporting men in uniform, war workers, farmers, teachers, business and industrial personnel carrying on the nation's essential activities. The Washington Motor Coach System is striving to meet the needs of all who must travel. Your cooperation in traveling on mid-week days, taking little baggage, and buying tickets in advance, will be appreciated.
